Approximately 100 Register For Draft Here Last Monday

Commerce Club Plans Field Trip

Richard Of Bordeaux Calls For Elaborate Effects In Costumes

Depicting the late Gothic period (1350-1400), the age of decadence in architecture, the period of rich ornamentation, and the period of more leisure and wealth, the costuming in the coming C.L.S. production, "Richard of Bordeaux," will be an elaborate feature.

Showing brilliance of color—yellows, greens, and blues—and exaggerating details and peculiarities of dress, the costumes at the beginning of the Renaissance remind one of those that might be taken from the prologue of Chaucer's Canterbury Tales.

This was a time of exaggerated headdress, with women wearing tall pointed caps and men wearing turban-like headgear.

Plays Lead

AVALYN LANE, of the Rensselaer C.Y.O., will play the feminine lead in the Columbian Literary Society's production of "Richard of Bordeaux," March 17. Miss Lane is well known to Collegeville audiences, having previcusly appeared in several plays here.

All From 20 To 45 Subject To Service

In the parlors of the Administration Building, approximately 100 St. Joe Students registered for military service last Monday. Under the direction of Earl L. Hemphill, students signed up between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 9:00 p. m.

The Rev. Fathers Henry Lucks, C.PP.S., Norman Koller, C.PP.S., John Schon, C.PP.S., Anthony Paluszak, C.PP.S., Clarence Schuerman, C.PP.S., and Edmund Guillozet, C.PP.S., assisted in the procedure.

This was in accordance with the Selective Service Act, by which Monday had been made the official nation-wide Registration Day. All men between the ages of twenty and forty-four who had not been previously registered were required to do so.

It is estimated that 9,000,000 men registered throughout the nation, adding that number to those already at the disposal of the United States fighting forces. In Indiana alone there were 300,000 new registrants.

Glee Club Prepares Songs For Programs To Come

For the past few weeks St. Joseph's College Glee Club, under the direction of Rev. Robert Koch, C. PP.S., has been busily engaged in rehearsing several new popular, semi-classical numbers for use in future concerts.

Although there are at present no definite programs lined up for the glee club for the near future, it is preparing these new songs for concerts that might suddenly spring up.

Among the songs being added to the repertoire of the club are "Night and Day," "Turkey in the Straw," "The Lost Chord," and others.

Father Ley Will Talk Before Camera Club

Members of the Camera Club will hear Father Sylvester Ley, College publications adviser, speak on the subject of "Newspaper Photography" next Tuesday night at a special meeting.

Sanguinist Members Plan Press Exhibit Weekend Of Feb. 28

Members of the Sanguinist Club for Catholic Action, under the direction of the Rev. Thomas H. Grotenrath, C.PP.S., will sponsor their third annual Catholic Press Exhibit in commemoration of National Catholic Press month, Feb. 28 to March 1, inclusive.

Included in this display, which is to be held in the two parlors of the main building, will be a collection of the latest Catholic literature, periodicals, pamphlets, diocesan papers, and Catholic college magazines and papers.

To Have Many Features

Features of this exhibit will be the display of a collection of books published by the Bruce Publishing Co., a set of from fifty to sixty pictures of Saints prominent in education, entitled "Saints in Action," and a bibliography of Catholic writers.

Plans for the exhibition are expected to reach completion soon, according to Fr. Grotenrath.

Park Lights Turned On Mornings For First Time In College History

With the introduction of War Time, the park lights between Dwenger Hall and the Administration Building have been turned on every morning at 6:00 (CWT).

Father Paluszak, on first noticing the lights, said: "I believe it is the first time since I have been here that those particular lights were turned on at that hour." Father Paluszak came to St. Joseph's in 1925.

Father Rapp, resident of Collegeville since 1893, recalls the erection of the lights and agrees with Father Paluszak that they have not been needed regularly in the morning before last week.

Lyons Scores Hit With Program Of Variety Selections

George Lyons, harpist, singer, and humorist, appeared on the stage of the College Theater tonight (Wednesday) in an unusual program that had everything from singing harp to comic antics.

An electrically amplified harp, the only one in the United States, was the most unusual feature of the evening's entertainment.

Headlined With Famous Bands

Lyons was formerly headlined soloist with Rudy Vallee, Paul Whiteman, and Jack Hylton's London Symphonic Orchestra. He played to capacity crowds in New York's famous Roxy Theater.

The comedy sketches, somewhat after the manner of movieland's Harpo Marx, gave the show variety, as his classical and semi-classical harp selections made it unforgetable for Collegeville's music lovers.

Cut Easter Vacation

Because of the accelerated educational program, Easter vacation will be somewhat shorter this year than the dates previously given in the catalog.

Easter vacation will begin at noon on the Wednesday of Holy Week and end the following Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock.

Seniors Have To Decide Between Thesis, Exams

This year's seniors will be permitted either to write a thesis or pass a comprehensive examination in order to graduate.

All graduates must decide which method they intend to employ for graduation before Tuesday, Feb. 24.

Initiate New Members Next Week, Banquet Plans Now In Making

At a meeting of the Commerce Club last Monday night semi-final plans for the club's coming field trip to Chicago were discussed and a committee was appointed to iron out the details as to when and how the event was to take place.

Committees were also formed to smooth the path for the coming banquet and a tentative hay-ride party with St. Francis College of Joliet, Ill.

Will Revise Constitution

Soon after the trip to Chicago a meeting will be held to discuss a revision of the constitution to cover the expanding activities of the club. The new members, approximately thirty-five, were informed that they must undergo the severe ritual of initiation next week.

As in past years, the field trip, which is proposed for the last week in February, will include visits to Chicago's commercial business houses most closely allied to the economic and accounting activities of the club. Among others the students will tour the Chicago Board of Trade and the Stock Exchange. The committee in charge of the journey is John McCabe, Dick Bissler, and Paul Brunton.

Plan Annual Banquet

A committee of Ed Ritter, Joe Crance and John Dunne will make plans for the third annual Commerce Club banquet, to be held toward the middle of March.

As to the hay-ride party with the girls from St. Francis, the group in charge promises something definite by the end of next week. For the time being the date has been set at April 11, and two logical places to hold the party have been suggested —either here or there. The committee is composed of Joe Beall, John Risch and Tom Cooney.

Work For Civilian Morale

Fathers Norman Koller, Rufus Esser (chairman), and Carl Nieset formulate plans for maintaining Collegeville's morale during war days.

The work of St. Joseph's Civilian Morale Committee, composed of Fathers Esser, Neiset, and Kollar, C.PP.S., is quietly getting under way. The primary function of the Committee will be to coordinate whatever special attention the various departments, clubs, publications, etc., may give to our country's war effort in their regular proceedings.

Discussions in classes pertaining to the war are encouraged because they will be promotional of interest in our country's effort.

Records will be kept by the Committee of the various activities on

DRIFT

(Editorial)

The Sanguinist Club's Triduum for Peace was undoubtedly successful both in its morning and noon devotions. The turnout was not perfect, though it might be counted satisfactory. We do hope, though, that all of us will not forget to pray for Peace—at morning Mass, in visits to the chapel during the day, or at evening Benediction.

This business of wanting Peace is like every other activity in that it demands two parts. First, there is the part that God plays, and second, there is the part which all of us must play. Wanting Peace, and hoping that Peace will come soon isn't playing our part. Praying for Peace every day, attending and participating in Mass is the part we have to play.

It's a give and take affair—this desire for Peace. We give our prayers, our small sacrifices and our large ones, too. Then when the proper time comes, God does His part and we have our wish. But only after we have fulfilled our part of the agreement.

Tom, Dick, and Harry agreed a long time ago that the best musical selection in our day is Hoagy Carmichael's "Star Dust." Then the trio wavered back and forth through a long list of modern composers—Kern, Kahn, Gershwin—to complete their list of favorite pieces. It just so happens, though, that when someone mentions the classical composers, Tom, Dick, and Harry shiver almost invariably.

We have wondered about that shivering: What causes it? Why do so many young people entertain a violent dislike for classical music? In modern music it has been noted that a selection or refrain from the classics could be easily adapted, given a modern title, and passed before the ears of Tom, Dick, and Harry without the least bit of trouble. So much of Tschaikowsky has been successfully re-arranged to the tempo of modern music that we have begun to wonder more and more about the shivers modern music fans affect.

Perhaps, because Americans have a notorious leaning towards the simpler names, like Smith and Jones, something might be accomplished by dropping the family name of every famous classical composer. After inserting names with a more commonplace ring we might be able to tempt the modern music lover from his perch of disdain. We need not hurry, though. Classical music has been with us for a long time. It will be with us for years to come. That's the quality that makes it classical. Maybe Tom, Dick, and Harry will sit down some day to listen to the radio. Maybe they'll hear a symphony by chance and listen to it without noticing the long name of the composer. When it's all over they'll be firm lovers of good music because all that is necessary is the willingness to listen.

Following the Flickers

With Dick Schreiber

MOTION PICTURES MOVE IN CYCLES like the style of women's hats. The change, of course, is not nearly so violent. Every so many years motion pictures revert to types of cinematic productions they have not used for some time. Right now the swing seems to be slanting towards "Ham," if you will pardon the expression.

Just what "ham" is would be hard to say, the word has so many different uses and variations. But this is just to give you an idea: Remember the old pie-slinging days? That was a combination of slapstick and ham. When an actor or actress can accomplish the same effect without the use of the pie, the acting becomes simply "ham."

Bob Hope has been accused of it. Olsen and Johnson (Hellzapoppin') are undoubtedly guilty. And the worst offenders of all—still the biggest name in the box office records—are Abbott and Costello. There is an old, perhaps trite, saying that Variety is the Spice of Life. Maybe that explains it.

RITZ: Friday & Saturday—Lew Ayres is back on the screen again with another in the Kildare series. This one is called "Dr. Kildare's Victory." Lionel Barrymore fills his usual role as Dr. Gillespie as the Kildare series enters a new cycle. Legion Rating: A-2.

RITZ: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—Alexander Dumas' story of twin brothers out to avenge their parents' death comes to the screen with Doug Fairbanks, Jr., in the role of both "Corsican Brothers." Legion Rating: A-1.

Akim Tamiroff is in the supporting cast. It is interesting to note that the Navy made Fairbanks clip his locks the other day when his commission was granted.

PALACE: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—"Louisiana Purchase," with Bob Hope, Victor Moore, and Vera Zorina, comes to the screen direct from a successful stage. Legion Rating: B.

Risque in parts, as the rating indicates, the film does have color, and proves that Bob Hope can have a show stolen from him. Victor Moore runs away with the picture.

RITZ: Wednesday & Thursday—Mystery, Comedy, and Adventure make up the "Smiling Ghost," starring Wayne Morris and Brenda Marshall. Legion Rating: A-1.

Collegeville's Reading Tastes Vary Widely Poll Shows

By John Ford

Reading is entertaining, it is exciting, it is educational. It above all things broadens a man. STUFF this week went to the students and asked what book they most enjoyed, during the year 1941.

This was done with the hope that you readers might get a few suggestions to help you with your reading. These books are what your fellow students have enjoyed. Perhaps they will give you the same entertainment.

Bob Farrell, junior from Springfield, Ohio, suggested that A. J. Cronin's books be perused and selected "Broad Highway" as his choice for 1941.

A freshman, H. Becker from Frankfort, Ind., selected one of the most sensational books of the year, Jan Valtin's "Out of the Night." He liked the book because it was real and exciting.

Bill Smith, junior from Louisville, Ky., liked "Son of the Middle Border." The action and lack of heavy description induced him to select this book.

Jerry Burran, freshman from Youngstown, Ohio, enjoyed A. J. Cronin's latest hit, "Keys of the Kingdom." "Out of this book comes not only entertainment but inspiration. It is a genuine accomplishment by a great novelist."

Leo Stufko, freshman from Lorain, Ohio, suggested "Green Light," Lloyd Douglas' popular book. Compared with "Arrowsmith," he likes the former because of the suspense involved.

John Manning, sophomore from Youngstown, Ohio, liked Alfred Noyes' latest book, "No Other Man." He liked it because it was a novel novel.

Bill Mullican from Stanley, Ky., liked James Hilton's remarkable "Random Harvest." Bill says it was one of the most exciting books that he has ever read.

Perhaps from these selections you will be able to obtain a book that will afford you some genuine entertainment. Reading is a part of education. Make that part vital.

Senior Sketches

By John Feicht

Jimmy Lavell's future, both as far as profession and draft are concerned, could be very easily summed up in two words, Naval Reserve. Jim, along with several other seniors, has enlisted in class V-7 for the duration. His training will start shortly after graduation.

Chicago, the second largest city in the country, is Jim's home town. Mt. Carmel high school is where he received his first higher education.

It was in the fall of '38 when Jim first registered at St. Joseph's. In his own words Jim says, "St. Joe has made a great change since I first entered four years ago. From what the fellows in other classes have told me, St. Joe made even greater progress in the two years preceding my entrance. I don't see how the school can help from growing in the near future."

Accounting is Jim's major subject. His name is among those who are charter members of the Commerce club. Hats off to Jimmy for his four years of active service on the staff of STUFF. Many were the times during the past four years that the streamer story or one of the many colorful features was written by this senior.

Puma Prints

By Bill Carlos

Bob Burns, St. Joe's semestral gift to the Golden Gloves, breezed through the Ft. Wayne welterweight division of the annual fistic classic by a brilliant procession of performances and is now on his way to the tournament of champions in the Chicago ring.

Burns captained Chicago's inter-city team as a welterweight last year. He led the Windy-City team to a national championship over New York, 10-6. He also won the Barney Ross Sportsmanship trophy last year.

St. Joseph's opening fistic exhibition was partially ruined last Friday night by Illinois Tech's forfeit midway in the match. Admissions were refunded to the guests of the College, which regrets the unavoidable incident.

St. Joseph's has three scheduled boxing matches with Purdue this season. One of the scheduled matches is to be held at an army USO center in southern Indiana. St. Joe will open Purdue's home shows before an expected crowd of some seven thousand people.

The Sports bids of the week go to Fr. Guillozet and his crew for the swell job on the new ring in the fieldhouse.

Bob will probably see the finals again this year, and Chicago experts pick him to meet Harry Stephens for the welterweight title. Bob has a brother Tommy also on the Fort Wayne championship squad.

Jack Bivenour, Drexel's famed statistician, has been causing a general migration to the Atlas volumes in the local library. Only two more home games remain on the Puma cage schedule. Saturday's feature Golden Jubilee game brings Chicago Teachers to the Fieldhouse hardwood. The next and final home appearance matches the Pumas against Loras College of Dubuque, Iowa, on February 27.

Illinois Wesleyan, whom the Pumas meet on February 24, hold the cellar spot in the Ilinois College Conference. The final road trip of the current season will bring the St. Joe five against John Carroll on March 2 and Youngstown College on March 3. Valpo is the last scheduled tilt. (A number of the mill town boys plan to follow the team to the eastern battle.)

Chicago Five Here Saturday, To Meet Illinois Wesleyan Feb. 25

Coach Joe Dienhart's battle-worn court warriors will attempt to repeat early season victories this week when they face Chicago Teachers here Saturday night and travel to Bloomington, Ill., for a return game with Illinois Wesleyan the following Tuesday.

St. Joe nipped a closing minute rally led by Joe Podraza, Teacher's forward, to win at Chicago Dec. 5, 37-35. Other starters for the Chicago five in addition to Podraza are Szewczyk, forward; Mazur, center; King and Newby, guards.

Golden Jubilee Game

This game will commemorate basketball's 50th anniversary; consequently a certain percentage of the gate will be donated to erect a basketball shrine at Springfield, Mass., the game's birthplace.

The Pumas won from Wesleyan, 40-32, Dec. 8, in the game which dedicated the new fieldhouse. Crabtree, a center, is the only veteran in the Illinois line. He led his team against St. Joe that night with 13 points.

Freshmen Win Final Tilt Of Season, 49-28

St. Joe's freshman basketball team wound up its season Friday night by trouncing Indiana Tech, 49 to 28, on the Fort Wayne team's home court.

Gil and Charlie Hodge were the big guns for St. Joe, scoring 13 and 10 points respectively. The Puma Frosh had little trouble beating Tech. They took the lead early in the game and never relinquished it. Earlier in the season, the Tech boys gave the Collegevillers a better tussle in which the St. Joe team won, 34-30.

50-50 Average

Friday night's win put the Puma Frosh team on a .500% average for the season. They played six games, defeating Indiana Tech twice and losing to Butler Frosh twice by 37-24, 50-41 scores. They split with Indiana State Frosh, losing one contest 42 to 38, and winning their other encounter with them, 30-26.

A few of the boys on Coach Kosalko's squad looked like varsity caliber players during this campaign. Gil Hodge was high-point man for the season with 64 tallies in 6 games. C. Hodge, Schrenk, and Gil Hodge played consistent ball all season. Mikan, Mullins and Schoder helped the St. Joe cause greatly in all of the games the freshmen played this season.

Magnus Club Men Hear Howard Guckien Speak

The Albertus Magnus Society is promoting a drive for new members. Those eligible for membership are students majoring and minoring in science. Applicants must carry an eighty percent average in all subjects, and better than an eighty mark in their science courses.

Howard Guckien's talk on Stratosphere Bombing was the feature event of the regular club meeting.

Battlin' Chaunce Cavey

Valparaiso U. Faces Puma Pugs In Ring Wednesday, Feb. 25th

St. Joseph's mittmen and the pugilists of Valparaiso University will get a second crack at each other Wednesday night, Feb. 25, this time in the local ring.

The Pumas took four fights out of six from the Uhlans at Valpo, February 5. The upstaters' coach called the match a draw, saying that St. Joe couldn't match his boys in two weights and had to forfeit those fights.

Hod Parker, Puma mentor, said, however, that he had as many different weights as Valpo and that there was no reason for St. Joe to forfeit.

Battling for St. Joe Wednesday night to convince Coach Schwiebert and his Valpo men who is the better will be Dick Kindig, Charley Klapheke, Bob and Chaunce Cavey, Bill Carlos, Jack Stenger, Jimmy McKenna, Jack Runchey and Vasco Luchi.

The fighters will not be matched until the night of the bouts.

Win From Ill. Tech On Forfeit Last Week

The first intercollegiate boxing meet ever held at Collegeville, Friday, ended in a misunderstanding of the rules under which the fights were fought and caused Ill. Tech to forfeit the meet to St. Joe, 4 to 1.

The Chicago boys were accustomed to fighting under amateur rules whereas this meet was held under the intercollegiate rules. This was the cause for the canceling of the rest of the fights.

Five of the Puma leather throwers faced Illinois Tech pugilists. Jim McKenna of St. Joe fought to a draw with Ellis of Tech in the 128-pound class. Dick Kindig took on Bob LaCivita of Tech in the 138-pound division and also fought to a draw.

In the 135-pound class, Chaunce Cavey looked very impressive in pounding out a three-round decision over Dunat of Illinois Tech. At 140 pounds, Capt. Bob Cavey fought Bob Lukes of Tech and was accidentally cut on the forehead by Lukes' teeth in the first round. The referee stopped the fight, awarding a T.K.O. to Lukes.

The battle of southpaws was on when Bill Carlos, of St. Joe, won a three-round decision over LeRoy Simpson in the 145-pound division. This was the most exciting bout of the evening.

Charlie Klapheke, Jack Stenger, Paul Wehrle, and Vasco Luchi fought exhibition matches after the Illinois Tech team withdrew. The fun started when Chester (Tiger) Skrabacz and Ed (Tarzan) Resetar grappled in a three-fall wrestling match with Pete Varini as referee. The match ended in a draw with Varini taking the worst end of the deal.

Hammond Takes Academy

The Academy game at Hammond last Friday night ended with the Cubs on the short end of a 44-38 score. Both coaches substituted freely, which indicates that their thoughts were concentrated on the state tournament game at Fort Wayne Friday between these two schools.

Bob Schmelter, captain and defensive ace, and Caspar (Cap) Brading poured in twelve points each.

Second Meeting Sees Pumas Win Again As Gutgsell Finds Mark

Maurie Gutgsell amassed a total of 25 points to lead the Pumas to a 56-40 victory over Central Normal last night on the Danville, Ind., court. St. Joe led consistently by a slight margin throughout the game. At the half the Dienhart squad led 27-22.

Normal stuck close to the Pumas during the first half. In the opening minutes of the second period Normal sank three field goals in succession. An exchange of charity tosses tied the score 29-29. It was the closest the home five could come to taking over the lead.

Gutgsell found his mark without trouble in a good percentage of the trys. Curly Wisniewski and Bill Quinlan turned in their best ball games of the season as able reserves.

Toward the end of the ball game Normal beginning to lag behind, allowed the Pumas to run up a comfortable lead. It was the Pumas' second victory over Normal this season. They won the first game which was played here in the Fieldhouse, 57-46.

Wabash Routs Pumas By Wide Margin, 61-29

What appeared to be a chance for victory at half-time turned into a 61-29 rout for St. Joe's Pumas in a net tussle against Wabash at Crawfordsville, Ind., last Thursday night.

Trailing 25-17 at the half, the Pumas were helpless victims of a 36-point assault after the intermission. Greve, brilliant Caveman forward, scored 34 points for the evening, six more than the entire Puma team gathered.

It was the worst defeat dealt St. Joe in many a year, and along with a victory over Chanute Field, it was one of the Wabash outfit's best games of the season.

Twelve Tilts On I-M Schedule Last Week

Twelve games were played last week in the St. Joe Intramural cage campaign, which is rapidly drawing to a close for another year.

Both of Drexel Hall's games were taken by Sherman's courtiers, who upset Boyle, 42-25, and Fleming, 32-31.

In Seifert Hall, Guckien beat McKenna, 46-26, and Runchey took Kelly, 33-16. A game which McKenna won from Runchey, 39-36, was played under protest by Capt. Runchey, so another meeting between these teams is quite possible.

Bissler, of Noll Hall, took two more wins last week at the expense of Cooney, 27-17, and Kauffman, 26-23, while Vernon was losing a couple of close ones to Ploszek, 24-19, and to Cooney, 3332.

In the Inter-Hall tilts, Noll barely edged Seifert Hall, 36-35; Drexel then defeated Noll, 38-32, and Gaspar downed Xavier by a 47-44 count.

Marine Corps Signs Eight Men For Officers' Training

Eight St. Joe men submitted their names to Lieutenant James W. Crain, liaison officer for this district, when that Marine officer was on the campus recently.

Lt. Crain gave information and reviewed applicants for prospective material for the officer training course offered by the Marine Corps as part of its program of expansion.

Among the students who contacted Lieutenant Crain for possible enlistment were Leo Herriges, Robert Shields, Joseph Hanley, Clarence Lewandowski, John Feicht, William Peitz, Louis Yugivich, and Lincoln Piotrowski.

A physical examination will be given to the students named, and those passing will be enlisted, when Lieutenant Crain and a medical officer return to the campus again early in March.

Marines Increase Numbers

In the past few years, the Marine Corps has been increasing in numbers. Since December 8, 1941, when Congress declared a state of war existed against the axis nations, recruiting offices of the Marines have been overflowing with young recruits who are eager to enlist in the most popular branch of our armed services. To provide young officers to lead these large numbers of recruits, Headquarters Marine Corps is turning to leading college campuses throughout the nation for leaders.

Anyone meeting the requirements of the Marines who has enlisted under this plan will begin training in the Candidates' Class for Commission in monthly increments of approximately 225, the first class beginning May, 1942. It is desired that students enlisted as juniors and sophomores remain on inactive status and continue in college until they complete their course and receive their degrees. The training will consist of a course of instruction of approximately three months as enlisted men, followed by commission and further training in a Reserve Officers' course of a similar period. Upon completion of the latter course, the officers will be assigned to general duties with troops.

Good Pay On Duty

Pay while serving on active duty during the first three months of training will be at the rate of $36 per month, plus transportation, food, clothing, and dental and medical care. After being commissioned as a second lieutenant, an officers' pay will increase to $125 a month with allowances for food and quarters.

Students interested in the United States Marines may secure further information or applications from Lieutenant James W. Crain, liason officer, Headquarters Recruiting Division of Chicago, 706 U. S. Court House Building, 225 South Clark St., Chicago, Ill.

Sanguinists End Peace Triduum Successfully

Combining Mass, Holy Communion, and prayer, students at St. Joseph's have completed a triduum, February 13-15, promoted by the Sanguinist Club and dedicated to a sustaining world peace.

Special highlights of the triduum were the vocal numbers rendered by Joseph Reardon and William Gray at the three noonday services.

Reardon, a sophomore from Youngstown, Ohio, is well known throughout the school and elsewhere, having sung in glee clubs and choruses throughout Ohio. Best known among these is the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Chorus of Youngstown. His melodic baritone voice has been fully developed under the tutorage of Frank Conroy, former voice teacher at Radio City, New York.

Equally well known and adept in music is William Gray, a sophomore from Peoria, Ill. Bill has studied voice under Estella Kelenback and Mr. William Donavan. The latter, formerly of Northwestern University, at present teaches music at Bradley Poly Tech, Peoria, Ill. distinctive honors, the most important of which was a fifteen-minute program over radio station WGN of Chicago. A possibly great career in radio was cut short for the time when Bill decided to come to St. Joseph's.

Other honors bestowed on this fellow student are the winning of first place in a statewide high school music contest while a senior in high school, and the directorship of a children's choir at St. Patrick's of Peoria.

More About

Elaborate Costumes

Sleeves were huge and flowing, sometimes even reaching to the floor; garments had many pleats, tight belts, leg of mutton sleeves, scalloped and ragged edges; velvets were in style; bells dangled from men's belts and baldricks; long pointed shoes and queer headgear were popular; extremes were in fashion everywhere, making the wearer seem to be of another world. Two of the favorite devices of decoration were the white hart and the white deer. These were also the days of armor, helmets, shields. coats of arms, long swords, and daggers.

The elaborate and colorful costuming in itself should be an incentive for attendance at "Richard of Bordeaux." The Rev. Dr. Paul Speckbaugh, C.PP.S., expects the costumes to be in within two weeks of the presentation.

Civilian Morale

the campus in regard to the national program for morale improvement. Occasionally a detailed summary of these activities will be sent to the General Office of Education in Washington, D. C., which is sponsoring hundreds of similar committees throughout the country.

Father Esser Will Speak

In the near future, Father Esser will give a talk to the students outlining the plans of the Committee.

The first step forward in the Committee's program was made last night when the Committee chairman, Father Esser, presented to a faculty meeting an outline of a Lenten program for the students. It consists of frequent Mass and Communion, daily attendance at Benediction throughout Lent, 100% attendance at the weekly special Lenten sermon by the College President, and occasional private visits to the Blessed Sacrament.

Concerning other activities, such as lectures on war issues, informative bulletins, special library offerings, and extra-curricular courses, more definite news will be available in the near future.

Caminati Enters Naval Air Corps After June

Accepted in the Naval Air Corps (Class V-7) is Armand Caminati, a junior Accounting student from Cleveland, Ohio. He was inducted on Feb. 2, at the recruiting station in Chicago's Merchandise Mart.

"Army," as he is known to the students, holds a private pilot's license and has fifty-five flying hours to his credit. He obtained his license by taking a CAA course at Case School of Engineering while attending John Carroll University, Cleveland. He left the latter school a year and a half ago to enter St. Joe.

He will begin his training at the end of the present semester and believes he will be placed in the June class at the training station at Glenview, Ill.
